

RNLI 25 KNOTS RANGE

The 25 Knots range was created by designer Ailsa Wilson for the RNLI. Ailsa's inspiration for the range was the build of the Shannon lifeboats at the All Weather Lifeboat Centre at Poole, where details such as the engine housing, impellers and ropes were used as elements in her designs.

'Out at sea Lifeboats are solid, awe-inspiring work-horses of the waves but it was the finer details on-board that caught my eye. Every nut, every bolt has a role to play and is depended on to perform its function. It all sang out to be made into a pattern.'
